Dear Sir or Madam:

My name is Guo Yixiang. My English name is Nate. I am from China. I currently study in third year in International Communication Management in The Hague University. I would like to apply the part time job position in the organization. During the three years study in the university I participated a lot of projects cover different areas such as branding project for Kellogg's meal replacement bar, integrated marketing communication project for Stickerfix, event organization projects for Delta Lloyd, etc. I gain a lot of valuable experience from these projects and learned how to be a good team worker and make contribution to the team. Besides, I have acquired many useful knowledge and skills from the courses I took in university. The most important skill I acquired is communication skill, especially the intercultural communication skill. I have been studying and working in multicultural environment for three years so I have lot of experience working in international working environment. I am able to perceive things in intercultural perspectives. I am open to new things and motivated. My English is fluent. Furthermore, I have gained some valuable experience during my three months internship in China Automotive System Company in Wuhan, China. I believe that I can fit in the organization and I will try my best to bring value to the organization. I am looking forward to this valuable opportunity. Thank you very much.

Best regards
