

International Top Talent

International Top Talent is looking for

Students for Medical Master Program - Ageing

Location: Leiden, the Netherlands

Are you interested in doing a Medical Science related Master degree? Do you want to become a pioneer for tomorrow's medical care? Do you want to address the needs of the growing number of elderly? If the answers are "yes", then you must check out this great opportunity. Only the best students will be accepted by this one year program on Vitality and Ageing. With the uniqueness of the program, you will emerge from it with a new set of skills to become successful either as a practicing physician, a scientist or a policy maker in ageing.

You will be accredited 'Master of Science' from a European Top Academy with:

- Unique program in ageing that combines Science (gerontology), medical care (geriatrics) and healthcare structure (policy making)
- Diploma from a World Top 100 University
- High opportunity to enroll in a PhD position in Europe
- Creation of pioneers in the growing field of ageing and medical care for elderly
- Broader future career options in three fields: Medical career, scientific (PhD) and healthcare management (policy making at international health care organizations, ministries, etc)
- At least 50% international students

Are you the one we are looking for?

- You have M.D. / Doctor of Medicine, Master degree for physicians, or Master degree in biomedical sciences
- You are affinity with and show great interest in ageing, vitality and geriatric medicine, have strong desire to make a difference for tomorrow's medical care
- You are socially engaged and committed
- You are fluent in English
- You are motivated to do a specialized Master degree abroad
- You are preferably between 25- 35 years old

Interested?

Contact us for more information or send us your English resume at shanghai @ internationaltoptalent.com.

About International Top Talent

International Top Talent (ITT) is an international HR consultancy that focuses on the search for, and selection of, Chinese professionals for European companies and universities. We offer support throughout the full recruitment process. We also have our academy to hold the ITT Intercultural Leadership Program which supports Asian professionals in unleashing their talent in a western working environment. ITT has offices in Amsterdam and Shanghai. For more details about ITT, please visit <http://www.internationaltoptalent.com/>